Renova Energy Named #1 Solar Installer in California by Solar Reviews!

PALM DESERT, CA, January 21, 2021 - Renova Energy Corporation has earned the #1 spot for the 2020 Top Solar Installers in California from SolarReviews, landing at the #4 spot nationwide. SolarReviews is a national company that evaluates solar installation companies by their sales process, quality of advice, timing and schedule, price charged as quoted, quality of products used, quality of installation, professionalism and courtesy, and after sales support. Renova Energy has consistently averaged top marks across every category, with customers frequently praising their experience with their certified Energy Consultants as well as their installation crew. Perhaps the most impressive statistic, however, is that California accounts for 40% of all solar installation companies across the United States.

“Our service before, during, and after every installation is crucial,” said Vincent Battaglia, CEO and Founder of Renova Energy Corporation. “It’s one thing to install solar on somebody’s roof — it’s another to make sure the customers see their energy savings in real-time and have access to somebody who can answer any questions long after the installation is completed.”

Battaglia also attributes Renova Energy’s Employee Stock Ownership Program (ESOP) to the company’s top-performer status. Because every employee becomes eligible to own stock in the company after one year of full-time employment, everyone is a part-owner with vested interest in its overall success. “Our employee-owners feel especially motivated to educate themselves and our customers about the solar and battery storage decade ahead of us,” Battaglia added. “We’re expecting major advances to happen in the field of renewable energy, so our customer relationships matter now more than ever before.”

As a top installer on SolarReviews, Renova Energy’s next focus is expansion, particularly on a national caliber. The next few years is expected to bring a #1 spot as its customer base and customer satisfaction grows.
